Cooperation between the United Nations and the Organization of American States

The General Assembly,

Recalling its resolution 55/15 of 3 November 2000 relating to the promotion of cooperation between the United Nations and the Organization of American States,

Taking note with satisfaction of the report of the Secretary-General on cooperation between the United Nations and the Organization of American States,[1]

Recalling that the purposes of the United Nations are, inter alia, to achieve international cooperation in solving international problems of an economic, social, cultural or humanitarian character and in promoting and encouraging respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms and to be a centre for harmonizing the actions of nations in the attainment of these common ends,

Recalling also that the Charter of the Organization of American States reaffirms these purposes and principles and provides that that organization is a regional agency under the terms of the Charter of the United Nations,

Recalling further its resolutions 47/20 A of 24 November 1992, 47/20 B of 20 April 1993, 48/27 B of 8 July 1994, 49/5 of 21 October 1994, 49/27 B of 12 July 1995, 50/86 B of 3 April 1996, 51/4 of 24 December 1996 and 53/9 of 22 October 1998,

Taking account of the Summit of the Americas, held in Quebec City, Canada, from 20 to 22 April 2001,

Noting that the International Civilian Support Mission in Haiti completed its mandate in March 2001,

Aware of the increasing cooperation between bodies of the inter-American system for the protection of human rights and those pertaining to the United Nations Commission on Human Rights,

Noting with grave concern the spread of the HIV/AIDS epidemic in the region and the need for increased financial resources and affordable essential drugs,

Noting also that the General Assembly of the Organization of American States has agreed to convene a Special Conference on Security in Mexico City in May 2003,

1. Takes note with satisfaction of the report of the Secretary-General on cooperation between the United Nations and the Organization of American States[1] and his continuing efforts to strengthen that cooperation;

2. Also takes note with satisfaction that the Organization of American States Special Mission for Strengthening Democracy in Haiti commenced operations in June 2002 and that the United Nations Verification Mission in Guatemala continues to collaborate with the Organization of American States on its thematic projects;

3. Recognizes the work of the Organization of American States towards the promotion and the protection of democracy in the Americas, in the field of regional cooperation and in connection with its task of coordination with the United Nations, and notes with satisfaction the adoption of the Inter-American Democratic Charter on 11 September 2001;

4. Welcomes the establishment of the Office of the Regional Adviser to the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights in Santiago, Chile, on 1 November 2001;

5. Also welcomes the efforts of the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean to strengthen cooperation with inter-American institutions in various fields, including hemispheric integration, statistics, women and development, and support with negotiations in the process towards the creation of the Free Trade Area of the Americas;

6. Recommends that a general meeting of representatives of the United Nations system and of the Organization of American States be held in 2003 for the continued review and appraisal of cooperation programmes and of other matters to be mutually decided upon;

7. Expresses its satisfaction about the exchange with the Organization of American States of information and substantive reports, including reports on the advancement in the status of women, on matters relating to youth and on the eradication of poverty;

8. Emphasizes that the cooperation between the United Nations and the Organization of American States should be undertaken in accordance with their respective mandates, scope and composition and be suited to each specific situation, in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations;

9. Requests the Secretary-General to submit to the General Assembly at its fifty-ninth session a report on the implementation of the present resolution;

10. Decides to include in the provisional agenda of its fifty-ninth session the item entitled "Cooperation between the United Nations and the Organization of American States".
